(From the Household Words. ) Dickens' Christmas Story The Seven Poor Travelers.

THE FIRST. I went back to my inn, to give the necessary directions for the turkey and roast beef, and during the remainder of the day, could settle to nothing for thinking of the Poor Travelers. When the wind blew hard against the windows, it was a cold day, with dark gusts of alce: alter with periods of wild brightness, as if the ee, but must invariably be paid were dying fitfully, I pictured them all vancing towards their resting place along various cold roads, and felt delighted to think how little they foresaw the supper that awaited them. I painted their portraits in my mind, and indulged in little heightening touches I made them footcore, I made them weary, I made them carry packs and melestones, leaning on their bent eticks, and looking wistfully at what was written there, I made them love their way, and filled their five wits with apprehensions of lylrg out all night, and being lrozen to death. I took up my had and went out, climbed to the top of the Old Castle, and looked over the windy hills that slopedown to the Medway; almost believing that I could descry some of my Travelers in the distance. After it fell dark, and the Cathedrai bell was heard in the invisible steeple, quite a bower of frosty rime when I had last seen t, etriking five, six, seven, I became so inll of my Travelers that I could not est no dinner, and felt constrained to watch them still, in the red coals of my fire The sense is dezocratic by a majority of two.

The legislature has much to do for the interest of the Sate generally. Their banks are in glorious pleasure was dashed by the reflection that probably some travelers had come too late and were shut ou. After the Cathedral bell had struck eight, I

The victory, they say, is due to them — It would not have been won without them: and I would trust Ben the waiter with untold gold; therefore, they must have choice of the spoils.

They are yet uncompromising on that point, and that I make myself are those strings in mine.

THE Genius of Man sever yet, even in this age of progress, invanted a similar article which has been of more benefit to thousands than JULES HAUEL'S EAU L'USTRALE HAIR RESTURATIVE.

JULES HAUEUS EAU in USINA UP.

RESTORATIVE.

This admirable preparation, the popularity of which extends over the whole contry, from Males to Georgia, is the only article which can with coefficine to use I in all the diseases to which the himan hair is lobic. Persons are delly writing or coming to the proprietor in person, to aenonnee the benefit received from lie nee, nome of whom have been most entirely old, and their heir has been restored; others whose hair had become dry and herd, have hed it completely restly-de and benefited; and ethers whose scalps have been covered with sourf and dandruf, have had it completely ersideated, and the hair restored to a delightful pority and boauty.

Jules Haud'n Ean L'ustrale Hair Restoretiva is beyond measure superior to sey other article used for the ub ve purposes. This the proprietor candidity believes to be imo, from his knowledge of the legredlants composing it; and from the thousands who have the life of the legredlants composing it; and from the thousands who have the life of the legredlants composing it; and rom the thousands who have the life of the legredlants composing it; and rom the thousands who have the life of the legredlants composing it; and rom the thousands who have the life of the legredlants composing it; and rom the thousand shale and Market.

JOS. P. GAZZA d., M. D. Naw Year, June 4th, 1850. Having used a trial of Mr. Nolomona's Speciacies, and examined the principle on which they are one structed, i have un hecitation in proceeding them superior to any with which I am acqualeted, and accordingly can must cheerfully recommund them to all who need artificial aid in improving their vision.

L'refessor of Pathology and Materia Madica, Geneva, Bugato and Bowdein Cologe.

Mr. Solomons has furnished me with my first pair of glasses. They appear to meaver the purpose very well, and occasion no transiness to the eyes when need. The testimony of other medical gesticmen or experience on the matter, is very conclusive and firm of these strictes.

JOSH. R. FLINT,

Professor of Glasses, Ky. School of Medicine. I have made trial, for a short time, of Mr. Solomons' triasses, and I sm much pleased with them; they render vision very distinct, and appear to fatigue the eyes less than the glasses I have herefore used. Those is need of artificial aid in this respect, will do well to call on him. Prof. Obstetics, University of Louisville.

I have this moreing examined Mr. Solomons' Glasses, and having, for the last two years, made diseases of the eyes my study, I have no heaftancy in saying to those who need glasses, that they will find them a superior arcele, well adapted to all tages.

Morers, B. A. Fahnesicek & Co., Pirsbung, Pa.:
Gentlemen. During the two years that shave been celling our celebrated Vornfuge, I have witnessed its effects in expelling worms with satisfaction. It will certainly expels such, if there be worms in the system. As a druggist, I take pleasure in bearing testimony to the merit of your valuable Vermifuge, and burecho the emilments of numbers of m patrons and curtomets, when I say that ibelly out to be to be been particle in use for the expulsion of worms.
